

SALE OF STOCK TO BE PUSHED HERE AT ONCE

Charter Gives Corporation
Maximum Capital Stock of $1,000,000 and Minimum $10,000

The State Corporation Commission this morning granted a charter to the Agricultural Credit Corporation of Virginia with offices in this city and with a capital stock of $10,000 minimum to $1,000,000 maximum. Application for the charter has been pending ever since the launching here of the new organization, the object of which is to lend money to persons engaged in the production of and the marketing of agricultural products.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday evening and mapped out plans for the sale of stock in the credit corporation in this city in order that the pledge made at the organization meeting may be redeemed. At the largely attended meeting, the Danville Chamber of Commerce pledged a total subscription of $100,000 the $200,000 additional to be raised in the surrounding section.

The directors yesterday appointed three committees of twelve members each to take the field at ten o'clock tomorrow morning in the stock selling campaign. It is hoped that the task can be completed in one day and thus give further evidence in a substantial way to Danville's interest in and satisfaction over securing the credit corporation. L. Herman was named chairman of the merchant's committee, Julian Jordan the Tobacco committee and L. B. Conway the industrial committee.

The temporary organization of the Agricultural Credit Corporation has been called to meet here on April 2nd when permanent organization will be perfected.

Wooding Urges
Observance Of
Arbor Day Here

Governor E. Lee Trinkle has designated April 11 as Arbor Day for 1924.

I suggest that our citizens comply with the governor's proclamation and on April 11 plant trees and flowers and as far as in their power add to the appearance and beauty of our city.

HARRY WOODING,
Mayor.

The foregoing proclamation was issued by Captain Harry Woodcock this morning at the request of the conservation committee of the Danville Garden Club which is desirous of seeing Arbor Day properly observed in Danville this year. Mrs. G. Q. Temple chairman of the committee, when questioned this afternoon stated that the committee will meet next week at which time plans for an Arbor Day observance here would be drawn up and then communicated to ance company referred in a pictorial bulletin to the child as a robust product of Schoolfield, also that, five months before the accident she was approved as a risk by a life insurance company. It is the contention of the plaintiff that Louise Tugman is suffering from a cerebral affection, spastic paralysis and idiocy resultant

The defense is based chiefly on the alleged fact that the trail of blood may be traced through the immediate antecedents of the family and that Louise Tusman was afflicted before she fell into the hole. The defense has further sought to show that the child was of a congenital type and some fifteen witnesses, many of whom are neighbors, have been produced to support this claim. They testified that the child acted queerly and had always appeared to be somewhat defective mentally. Dr. H. A. Wiseman and Dr. D. C. Ragsdale testified from the stand by the defense yesterday in support of the defense already outlined.

Physicians testifying for the plaintiff and who have expressed the view that the child's present condition is due to the injury she sustained, include Dr. Samuel Newman, Dr. J. E. Taylor, Dr. J. L. Jennings and Dr. Parson of Chatham.

The rebuttal testimony heard today was that of the physician who testified for the plaintiff, Dr. J. E. Taylor, who testified that the child had been born with a congenital defect.

THOUGHT FORGERY
ROAD TO FORTUNE

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, March 25.—(Stranger) Cruz, who dreamed of making a fortune by counterfeiting and eloping with a motion picture actress, according to secret service agents, is being served today and was sentenced to serve ten years in the Atlanta penitentiary, the prison from which he escaped a few years ago. The sentence will begin after expiration of a ten year sentence imposed in New York in 1915 for a similar offense and of which he had served only three years when he escaped.

Cruz, a young Cuban, had been making imitation $20 notes. He had not begun to pass any of them when apprehended two weeks ago. He had been writing letters to a motion picture actress in Hollywood, California, and hoped to elope with her, the government agents said, and planned a more pretentious counterfeiting campaign in Mexico.

Cruz claims to be of Spanish descent and to be the son of a former military attaché at the Spanish embassy in Washington.

SEND BLOODHOUNDS TO ROBBERY SCENE

A brace of bloodhounds from the Ford kennels at Martinsville passed through Danville yesterday afternoon at three o'clock en route to South Hill, Va., between here and Norfolk, where the mercantile establishment of J. W. Wall was entered some time during Monday night. A ladder was raised to one of the rear windows and entrance afforded in this way a quantity of dress goods and other commodities were taken by the thieves, no estimate being available last night on the value of the goods taken. No left was left which would be of assistance in aiding the county officers in seeking the thief or thieves and it was for the purpose of determining the direction of flight that the dogs were sent for.

So declares a Greensboro, N. C., druggist, after several years' experience in recommending Apinol for first aid and the successful healing of wounds.

His store is in the cotton mill district where injuries to fingers and arms are frequent.

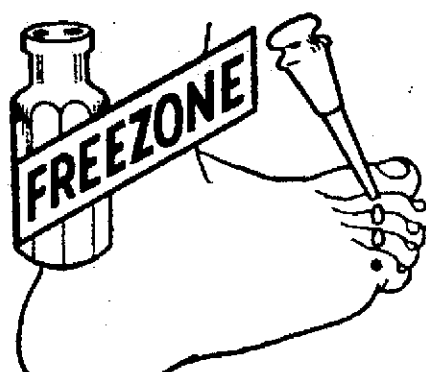

This druggist adds that Apinol is not poisonous nor in any way dangerous, does not have to be diluted before use and has the further value, unusual in antiseptics of relieving the pain of a wound.

He says that if treated promptly with Apinol, wound rarely, if ever, develops pus.

The pint size, $1.25 is most useful in the mills and in large families, but the ordinary family usually buys the 2-ounce size for 30c.

New Way To Banish Rheumatic
Pains Discovered
By Alessandro
Volta.Rids You of Rheumatic Pain Without
Drugs or Medicines

Until recently, the real cause of Rheumatism, has evaded scientific inquiry. And naturally the old-fashioned methods of treatment with internal remedies were uncertain and sometimes dangerous.

Now it has been definitely established that rheumatic pains are caused in many cases by the absorption of poisons into the blood.

Alessandro Volta, the well-known physicist for whom the electric volt was named, has evolved an entirely new and revolutionary method of treatment for rheumatism. He discovered a scientific combination of certain ingredients that produces a fine powder which, when shaken into the pores or stockings is introduced to be immediately absorbed into the blood. This is due to the fact that the pores of the feet contain 10 times as many pores to the square inch as are found in other parts of the body.

He has called this powder Volta. Its use has given immediate relief, in many instances, from the terrible crippling, torturing pain even in stubborn long-standing cases.

The use of Volta Powder has demonstrated such astonishing results in literally thousands of cases, many of which were considered hopeless, that the American distributors have authorized local druggists to dispense Volta to rheumatic sufferers in their city with an unqualified guarantee to return the full purchase price of the first box in any rare case where the rheumatic pains are not wonderfully relieved.

All who suffer from rheumatic pains, no matter how long-standing, their case may be, should take immediate advantage of this liberal offer. You can get Volta from A. W. Jacobs & Co., Main St., Booth Drug Store, Main St.—adv.

Y. W. Celebrates
Its Member Drive
With Fine Dinner

The Young Woman's Christian Association last night had a jubilee dinner and celebration of the results of their annual membership campaign which closed with a total enrollment of 830 members. Dinner was served in the spacious main dining-room of the Blue Triangle tavern, recently established as an adjunct and agency of the association, and the attractive decoration of the dining-hall was done by another committee of the association.

The hall was completely filled by the members and guests. Mrs. Buckner, president of the association, occupied the place of honor at the first table, and one side of the Rev. Samuel T. Senter, D. D., was seated, while Harry E. Fitzgerald sat at her right. Others at this table included the speakers who responded to toast during the after-dinner program of the festivities.

Mrs. Penn very happily called the dinner to attention after they had partaken of a well selected and excellently served menu and in a brief introductory address stated the nature and occasion for the gathering under such pleasant conditions. Thereafter, the Rev. Dr. Senter offered an invocation of divine blessing.

The toastmistress then called upon H. R. Fitzgerald, who has an active part in all beneficial and philanthropic movements in the community for a talk. Mr. Fitzgerald responded in a brief extemporaneous address in the course of which, after acknowledging his appreciation of the privilege of being present, he touched upon a theme which is dear to the hearts of the Y. W. members—the provision of a home for the association. The speaker aroused great enthusiasm by his hopeful forecast of the prospects of realizing this grand objective, as it may be called. Nor need it be said that he was enthusiastic.

Mrs. S. Y. Taylor, an active and zealous and a very efficient worker in the Y. W., then led in the Membership Recognition service, a responsive recital of devotion and consecration, character.

Miss Marie L. S. Conner had preceded Mrs. Taylor, delighting her hearers with a violin solo rendered with her well known brilliancy.

Following the recognition service, Miss Pearl Young, a member of one of the association girls' clubs, gave a violin solo in a most creditable and pleasing manner.

Mrs. E. J. Hinchliffe, general secretary of the association, gave the first toast-address, her theme being "The Many Angles of the Triangle," in the course of which she gave a vivid resume of the varied activities of the Y. W. of this city, speaking with ease and grace, but also with forceful appeal.

Then followed what was characterized as "high spots touched by committee chairman." The first of these talks was on "Finance," and was made by Miss Margaret Brydson. Subsequent responses were in rhyme, which figures of speech, abandoned, but Miss Brydson dealt chiefly in figures which speak eloquently for the financing and the activities of the organization.

Mrs. S. Y. Taylor, for the membership committee, gave the actual results of the successful membership drive. Her response was in rhyme and set the pace for those who followed. As already stated, the membership campaign had enrolled a total of 830.

Mrs. George P. Georgehan, Jr., made the report of the work of the Industrial committee, effectively reviewing its activities in rhyme, which was not without both reason and humor.

Miss Annie James submitted the report on the Girls' Work committee. Her report being modeled on the measure of "The Night Before Christmas." The handicaps of metre and rhyme did not, however, prevent her making a complete and inclusive review of the activities of the girls' work committee.

Mrs. Raymond Hall, for the Hospitality committee, which had served the dinner, related her experience in rhyme which was tinged with humor and pleasant and won a cordial response from those who had enjoyed the hospitality.

Mrs. W. T. Hughes in her introductory almost convulsed the audience with some of her confessions and pleasanties and the delightful naivete with which she spoke. As for her report, it summarized the work of the committee on Religious Education, mentioning the various services and addresses, including one on "The Women of the Bible," by Rev. S. T. Senter, D. D., this the first of a series of such addresses.

Mrs. A. A. Giles told of the work of the General Education committee, enumerating in rhyme the various efforts during the year along cultural lines.

scope. In practical philanthropic work, she related that the girls had given 10 per cent. of their funds for the milk fund for the undernourished. They had also learned to make stocking dolls, many of which had been given to children. Finally she reviewed the work and program of the recent conference.

Miss Mabel Cole for the Industrial Girls' club also showed in her report a year of activity and achievements and above all her statement echoed the enthusiasm and eagerness of the club girls.

Miss Blaise Savage for the Girl Reserves gave a complete and illuminating summary of the activities of the club and also gave a glimpse of the aims of the younger girls desired, one of which was a camp, with the opportunity of enjoying outdoor life near to Nature and in the simple-life style. She announced that the Father and Daughter dinner was planned for April 15.

All of the speakers were toasted in song appreciations by a bevy of the younger girls, some of whose musical commendations of these honorees in this way were decidedly clever.

This closed the program for the evening which had followed a dinner in which chicken salad, ham, pickles, potato chips, hot buttered rolls, chocolate sauce and coffee comprised the menu.

SWARMS OF MIGRATORY
BIRDS APPEAR, THEN VANISH

An unusual invasion of small migratory birds, which appeared in the downtown section this morning about 1 o'clock and continued for half an hour or more was noted by police officers and others as it was at that hour. The birds, one of which was caught on Church street, was about the size of the ordinary American or hedge-sparrow, once abundant and familiar in this section, but it appears to be nearer white under the breast than the small sparrow, which is now scarce in the rural regions. The specimen exhibited may have been an exception, but its strength as manifested in its persistent efforts to escape a detaining hand, indicated that it might have attained its normal growth and size. Thousands of these small gray-coated, almost-whitebreasted birds suddenly appeared shortly after 1 A. M., seemingly being attracted to the electric lights in the lower part of the city; their presence being indicated by their chirp as they flitted about in every direction. Some alighted on telegraph or other wires. The air was almost alive with them, they were suddenly and quickly they began to disappear as suddenly as they had appeared shortly before. It is probably a bird migrating from South to North, and its movement is regarded as indicative of the opening of a Spring.

PRESIDENT MONROE IS STILL AGROUND

(By The Associated Press.)
MIAMI, Fla., March 25.—The Dollar Line Steamship President Monroe was fast aground on Pacific Reef, 32 miles south of Miami and five miles off the coast at 3 o'clock this afternoon. It was learned tonight when the master of a small craft returned to Miami with passengers of the vessel.

Attempts to float the ship had proved unavailing. The President Monroe was described as listing slightly to the starboard and to be showing about three feet above the waterline.

A calm sea with no immediate danger to ship or passengers was reported. The wrecking tug Warbler of Key West is working with hawsers trying to pull the President Monroe off but is not meeting with much success.

Kiwanians Are Guests of Lions

The entertainment by the Lions' Club of the whole membership of the Kiwanis Club at dinner in the banquet hall of the Masonic Temple last night brought together a congenial party of 130 men about the festal board and provided two hours of instruction and entertainment in which the element of fun predominated after the opening or principal address. It was a reciprocation by the Lions of their entertainment some months ago by the Kiwanians and was a fine demonstration of the friendship and fraternity existing among the members of the several civic-social-business clubs of the community.

The dinner itself was served by a circle of ladies of the Episcopal church and including an appetizing menu and service with a smile. Music, vocal and instrumental and in combination, an enjoyable reading and some orchestral work made up the program which was the setting for the feature event, an address of some thirty minutes length by Benjamin Ruffin, of Richmond, Va., one of the international directors of the Lions' organization. This was followed by stunts by the Lions who instead of touring, cooled and laughed with their victims, instead of at them.

The Rev. J. Cleveland Hall, D. D., invoked a blessing before the diners began their serious work, which ended their attention for perhaps 45 minutes. Then the Rev. Joseph S. Gresham, pastor of Calvary M. E. church and a Lion, introduced the guest of honor, Mr. Ruffin, in a very happy presentation speech.

Mr. Ruffin in his address spoke of the co-operation of civic clubs such as the two fused for the time being at this dinner. It was a practical and thoughtful presentation of the serious side of such club membership and projected forcefully the possibilities of such clubs for large and helpful service in all matters of public interest and community and national concern. The speaker was given close attention and was applauded frequently as he began to develop the large possibilities of his theme.

The musical portion of the program included two delightfully sung selections by Mrs. Allen T. Rabe, of the Main Street Methodist choir, a singer whose beautiful voice and charming personality have made her a widely popular singer. She was given a wildly popular encore last night, Mrs. A. T. Gunn, who is both a vocalist and a pianist, was Mrs. Rabe's accompanist.

A reading by Miss Adams, the brilliant head of the expression department of Averett College, held the close and appreciative interest of the clubmen and won enthusiastic encomiums.

The musical interludes in the dinner course and the intervals between other features were by the Westbrook Concert company, a group of well known local entertainers and were enjoyable throughout.

TRY TO BRIDGE THE GAP IN SOLDIERS' BONUS ESTIMATES

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Senate Finance Committee sought today to bridge the $2,500,000 gap between two sets of government estimates as to the probable cost of the soldier bonus bill passed by the House.

Joseph McCoy, government actuary, who figured the bill would cost $1,855,750,087 and H. P. Brown, veterans' bureau actuary, whose figures were used by the House in estimating the cost of the bill at $2,110,000,000, both were asked to appear before the committee.

Two main differences have developed in their calculations. Mr. McCoy figured the government would have to pay interest on all funds appropriated for settlement of the bonus and Mr. Brown suggested for this expenditure would be necessary if the government should invest in outstanding government bonds the funds it would appropriate for the sinking fund with which to pay for the bonus at the end of 20 years. They also differed on the average number of days of service for veterans. Upon conclusion of the hearings, the committee will resume work on the revenue bill.

The miscellaneous tax schedules are the next subject for deliberation, since the fight over the income tax rates apparently has been postponed until the bill reaches the floor of the Senate as a result of the committee vote to restore the Mellon rates in the bill. Interest in the sur-tax rate fight has shifted to the possible attitude of Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, leader of the insurgent group which is admitted to hold the balance of power.

Mr. La Follette has been confined to his bed recently and efforts to learn of his attitude on the rate schedules have been unsuccessful.

V. M. I. Alumni To Meet Here Tomorrow

On March 26th, at the Jefferson Hotel in Richmond, Va., the Executive Committee of the V. M. I. Alumni Association met to carefully consider the matter of filling the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of General E. W. Nichols as superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute, and to discuss the qualifications of a number of Alumni and others who have been suggested for this position. Dr. R. B. James, of Danville, was present at this meeting and is in position to inform the Danville Chapter properly in regard to what happened in Richmond.

A man has been selected whose name will go before the Board of Visitors of the Virginia Military Institute for their consideration. Before the board meets, however, it is the earnest desire of the V. M. I. Alumni Executive Committee that the resolution adopted in Richmond March 15th, to call on all Chapters of the Alumni Association for their consideration, and a report made to the Executive Committee by the first week in April, at which time this matter will finally be decided, after any necessary changes resulting from the voice of the V. M. I. Alumni.

A meeting of the Danville Chapter of the V. M. I. Alumni Association has been called at the Y. M. C. A. in Danville Thursday night at eight o'clock, and it is hoped that a large attendance will be on hand to hear the report from Dr. James, and take some action on the resolution adopted by the Executive Committee.

OIL COMMITTEE NOT HOLDING A SESSION TODAY

Adjourns Until Tomorrow In Order To Consider Pending Bills.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 26.—The oil committee suspended its hearings today to consider a number of pending bills, but it will get back to its investigation tomorrow to question several witnesses about reported "oil deals" during the 1920 Republican National convention.

Meanwhile the house judiciary committee had before it the Senate resolution looking to impeachment of Clarence C. Chase, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall as collector of customs at El Paso, Texas, and District Attorney Gordon was preparing to press for grand jury action this week on the Senate's charge of contempt against Harry F. Schuler because of his refusal to testify before the oil committee.

LONDON, March 26.—A message to Lloyd's from the North Portland wireless station reports that a Japanese steamship the Tokufukumaru, sank after colliding with the German steamship Heimdall near Dungeness in the English Channel last night. The Heimdall took off the members of the Japanese steamship, said the message had arrived at Dover today with her bow damaged.

A later message said the sunken steamer was bound from Bremen for Japan and that 23 of her crew were missing.

Lloyd's register lists the Tokufukumaru as a steel vessel of 3,533 gross tonnage. She was last reported to have arrived at Rotterdam on March 14.

Cotton Factories Stress Efficiency Of Their Workers

(By J. C. ROYLE)
NEW YORK, March 26.—Textile manufacturers having seen their margin of profit curtailed at once by resistance to price advances, are turning earnest attention to broadening those margins at the other by reduction of the production costs. Those especially is the view among makers of cotton cloths, who are facing a critical situation in the South and New England at present.

"Uncertainty of the future in production and price fluctuate of raw cotton together with the development of competition and specialization in manufacture is essential that cotton mills develop and maintain the highest efficiency both in machinery and labor," D. W. Holland of the executive board of the Textile Operating Executives of Georgia and Florida, said today. Executives from those States have spent a large part of this week in discussion of factory practice and methods.

They agree that in both machinery and labor, the best is the cheapest and most economical in the long run. As a result, many plants in the South and New England are being remodelled on a more efficient basis. This has been noticeable recently in Virginia and North Carolina, where new and improved machinery is being installed while mills are on a curtailed production schedule.

The great Amoskeag mills of New England are adding woolen machinery in order to take full advantage of the trained personnel on their payroll. Consolidations, which would tend to eliminate overhead charges, also have been put into effect, and other measures are in prospect. It is now rumored in Boston that the large Arkwright mills and the Bernard Manufacturing Company will be combined.

The South, according to Mr. Holland, now is reaping the benefit of money spent in welfare work in the past. "Money so spent and that devoted to churches, schools and amusements," he added, "has kept American-born labor contented and efficient, and is now being reaped in increased individual efficiency in Southern mills. I consider this factor one of the greatest in bringing this section to the front rank in the textile industry."

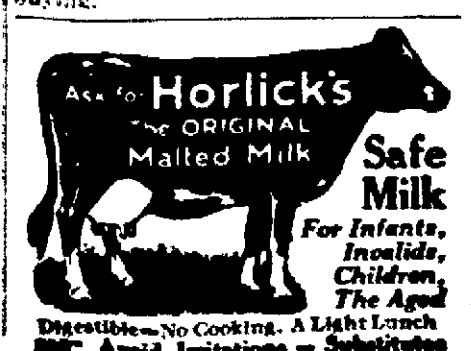

His attitude is supported by J. J. Trague, secretary-treasurer of the National Association of Credit Men, who is in close touch with conditions in all sections of the country. "Students of industrial relations," Mr. Trague said, "strongly advocate a closer getting together of executives and employees."

"Personally, I have felt that this idea was not only human but exceedingly practical."

"I have noticed in my recent travels, several large enterprises where the chief executives know their men, and it was interesting to note that in businesses governed by this direct intercourse, trouble seldom arose. A mutual understanding will help tremendously in solving problems and establishing a closer cooperation for production on the lowest basis of cost."

At present cotton goods are moving in unusually light volume, prices are not satisfactory to manufacturers and mill curtailment is more marked. Experts attribute this to much too lack of demand, by ultimate consumers, although these seem keenly resentful of attempts to raise prices, but to caution and conservatism on the part of the distributors. However, stocks in the hands of retailers and jobbers are not large and must be replenished. They look for improved business and June approaches.

Conditions in Mexico and Central America absorb a fair volume of American cotton goods as well as other products have been most satisfactory recently. It is true that the Mexican troops in Mexico are rapidly scattering the rebel forces but a period of unrest with frequent interruption of communication is to be expected for some time to come. Scattered bands from both sides, under stress of returning to work in the fields, often cause considerable disruption of trade and communication following Mexican political disturbances. A similar condition is affecting trade with Honduras while weather conditions in some of the more Latin American countries have not been such as to lead to extensive buying.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

The parlors of Memorial Mansion were crowded with the members of the Music Study Club and their guests on Tuesday evening to hear what proved a brilliant program of the later composers of Italian Opera.

Miss Hallie McMillan, president of the club, graciously welcomed the guests after which Miss Madelyn Moore, chairman of the program committee, announced the numbers. Mrs. Richard Moss gave a clear, account of the composers. Verdi, Puccini, Leoncavallo and each number was given a brief synopsis of the opera illustrated.

The first number, a duet in trio form "Every Flower," from "Aida," was sung by Miss Madelyn Moore, Mrs. Lawrence O. Crumpler and Mrs. Richard Moss, Miss Hallie McMillan playing the accompaniment.

This number was followed by a fantasia from Verdi's "Rigoletto," by Sam Sours, who played in his usual masterly style. Messrs Ben Kinross and William Benazzi gave a fine interpretation of a selection from La Forza del Destino by Verdi with Mr. Sours as accompanist.

The fourth number was given by Miss Marie L. S. Conn, whose renditions as a violinist makes every rendition a pleasure to her hearers, gave selections from Cavalleria Rusticana, Mascagni and Madame Butterfly. Miss Moore playing accompaniment.

Basin Browder, accompanied by Sam Sours at the piano, sang Leoncavallo's "Prélude" from "Pagliacci" in a pleasing manner and which called forth many expressions of appreciation from the audience.

The closing of the evening was when Mrs. Laura Janos Fuesell, teacher of voice at Randolph Macon Institute, in gorgeous costume, did justice to the arrangement and singing the "Judgment Scene" from "Aida," Verdi's greatest work. This scene runs the gamut of human emotion, love, fear, hate, anger and grief.

Mrs. Fuesell's interpretation of the poem, range and beauty of her voice, did justice to all these, especially the poignant lament of Amneris when she finds she has betrayed her lover, and cannot make him save himself.

The support given Mrs. Fuesell by her accompanist, Mrs. Edwin Meade, was marvelous, the piano seeming to hear the burden and steady the waves of high emotion like an anchor in a storm yet ascending to the heights.

The audience was greatly moved and at the last burst into enthusiastic applause. Miss Moore, who was responsible for the arrangement of the program is to be congratulated on having so successfully carried out the series of studies of Italian Opera, begun by Mrs. Mary Ayres in a program of Early Italian Opera, which delighted a large number of music students and members of the club two weeks ago.

The following excerpt is taken from a recent issue of the Lynchburg News, expressing appreciation of the talent of the Westbrook Concert Company, composed of four well-known Danville players which recently performed there:

"The four young men pleased their audience winning applause from the opening number, Beethoven's 'Minuet in G' played by Sam Sours, pianist, to the final selection 'Alma Oe,' played at the organ by the piano, violin, guitar and steel guitar."

Mr. Sours played several numbers.

Beauty

A Gleamy Mass of Hair

35c "Danderine" does wonders for Any Girl's Hair

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of delightful, refreshing "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair becomes.—adv.

on the piano, including "Waltz in A" a composition of his own which possesses a degree of charm. Probably his best executed number was Rubinstein's "Etude."

Basin Browder has a good baritone voice, and also showed ability in selections on the guitar. "Thank God For a Garden," given as an encore to his first group of songs was possibly the best of his numbers.

Richard Penn, violinist, gave a number in which his instrument was put to particularly "Chanson Indoue" with which he concluded his second group. He also gave a number of steel guitar selections in company with other members of the company.

John Westbrook, Jr., with steel guitar gave selections ranging from light classical, through popular and including Hawaiian, and brought out the melodies as only that instrument is capable of doing. The final number, with combination of guitar and steel guitar, or two steel guitars, served as a fitting climax to the concert.

NEED MORE RHYTHM, SHE SAYS

TWO VIEWS OF RUTH ST. DENIS
FAMOUS AMERICAN DANCER

"Too much time is wasted in both public and private schools upon unnecessary subjects," says Miss St. Denis.

"If the child of today were given a serious fundamental training in rhythm, he would not degenerate into the tired business man and business woman of tomorrow."

Miss St. Denis believes that if rhythms were seriously taught in every school in the country there would be a shorter list of sub-normal children.

Beginning with the first stretching of the new-born babe, every child should be taught graceful movements of the arms and legs," she says. "Then the child would be conscious of a natural co-ordination of the muscles. With this would follow a natural development of the mind."

Children of the kindergarten age are not too young to study rhythms. "Start youngsters off right—with health of body, and you have them on the right road—to health of mind."

W. C. T. U. Contest For Members Is Brought To Close

The membership contest inaugurated by the Roberts Memorial W. C. T. U. three weeks ago closed Tuesday evening with an enthusiastic and largely attended meeting at the home of Mrs. W. King Anderson.

The two captains, Mrs. L. W. Purdum, Sr., and Mrs. L. L. Vann with their sub-captains and teams had worked hard and the result was a pretty even contest. The two teams were kept, but Mrs. Purdum's team forged ahead and won out, having secured twenty-six of the new members.

The contest between the two teams was kept, but Mrs. Purdum's team forged ahead and won out, having secured twenty-six of the new members.

Therefore Mrs. Vann's team will provide an entertainment for the entire membership, both old and new and including the honorary members. This will be known as a "Dues Social" when every member who has not already paid dues for this convention year will be given an opportunity to do so and at the same time enjoy the entertainment to be provided by the losing team.

It was decided to hold this social at the home of the president, Mrs. M. O. Nelson, on Tuesday evening, April 8 when every member will be expected to be present.

At the meeting Tuesday evening Union Square Day was observed and an interesting program had been arranged by Mrs. F. O. Kidd. Six subscriptions to the Union Square, the organ of the National W. C. T. U., were secured and the union voted to send the paper to all the pastors of North Danville churches to Rev. T. E. Peters of Kentucky church and to the principals of the two schools of North Danville.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT, COTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER

"Are you sure, John, that you never loved the mother of your child?" I asked my husband tremulously.

"I can't answer that question honestly, Leslie. A man thinks he loves many women for many things, and I sometimes think he misses the real love because he is unfortunate enough not to meet the one woman who is THE woman, who satisfies all that his mind, soul and body craves, the woman who is real and loyal as a friend through good and ill, whose hand he can clasp in closest comradeship or who will set his blood tingling to love's sweetest measure; the woman who has a face so fair that he may love to gaze, whose brain is big enough to cope with his and whose soul is so broad that he knows that truth, sympathy and perfect trust find judgment there."

"Beside being the woman I have just described, Leslie, I have found in you something more. Dearest, your great loving heart is so tender that at my slightest touch you seem to drop all other attributes, all other thoughts save those of Love."

"Leslie, you have made this world more beautiful for me than I have ever thought it could be. I cannot lose you now—I cannot. Do not punish me for something I did before I knew you; before you had come into my life to show me that God made a man in his own likeness and that only when he allows himself to sink to his baser level he becomes the lesser thing than God intended him to be."

Jack's voice trailed off into silence. I could not speak; in fact, I could not bring my brain to realize it all. Even all the beautiful things he had just said to me about myself did not affect my consciousness until afterward. Then I knew that no man could have said them unless he meant them all.

Little Marquise, did ever your kindly lover say anything sweeter to you?"

At the time, however, my tongue just refused to form any words, and the silence began to hurt us both with a torture unspeakable.

"Leslie, Leslie, speak to me! Tell me that you will forgive me!"

"When did you know that little Jack belonged to you, John?" I found myself asking. My tongue seemed saying things of which I had no thought, no intuition.

It seemed hours before Jack answered my question.

"It was a few weeks afterward Paula wrote to Sid, and he wrote me, telling me that she had confessed to me."

what she had done in disposing of her baby. It was too late to say anything then; besides, I was afraid."

"Poor girl, how she must have suffered!" I stirred in surprise and wondered if it were I who had spoken those words. I had no intention of saying them before they came out. But honestly, Little Marquise, the only thing I could think about was the look of agony upon that poor girl's face when she sat in my beautiful nursery with her own baby clasped in her arms, and couldn't own it. It was then that she said:

"Shall we give him back?" asked John. "I will do so if you wish it."

"Not for all the world," I answered. "I would give you up more easily than him."

CUT FLOWERS
Heated air is injurious to cut flowers. They should be set in a cool place at night and in the morning be put in water up to their necks. If you float them in the bathtub it is an effective measure.

HOW TO BUILD A HOUSE OF DIRT

By CHARLES P. STEWART ABOVE—A VIEW OF THE MOLD USED IN BUILDING THE WALLS OF THE DIRT HOUSE. LOWERLEFT—THE EARTH WALLS SHOWING SPACES LEFT FOR WINDOW S AND FLOOR. LOWER RIGHT—A HOUSE WHOSE LOWER WALL IS MADE OF RAMMED EARTH. COVERED A COAT OF SAND ANCEMENT.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—If you want a house but can't afford it, build with ordinary dirt. The dirt turns to stone.

Cost? Nothing for the dirt. Day wages for a little unskilled labor.

Whatever you please to pay for plumbing and other accessories.

All this is according to Edward W. Coffin, a well-known Washington mechanical engineer.

"It's a very old style of building," he says, "known as 'pise de terre,' which means 'rammed earth.'"

"Pliny the Roman, tells of its use by Hannibal, 150 years before Christ. Thomas Jefferson recommended it, but wood was too plentiful in America in those days. The oldest house in the United States, at St. Augustine (Florida), was built thus."

Such a house, built in 1773, stands in Washington today, better than when it was new. And Dr. H. B. Humphrey, Department of Agriculture, has just finished a rammed earth house here. City building inspectors say it's one of the solidest, best-built in town.

repeat until the mold is full. After that, remove the mold, set it up again and go on.

"penins are left for doors, windows, fire places and chimneys by putting blocks in the earth and taking them out when the earth around them has been rammed."

"During building the exposed sides won't be affected by rain, but the top should be protected with tar paper or boards."

"After six weeks' drying, in ordinary summer weather, the wall becomes rocklike. It may be finished outside as desired—stucco, pebble dash, cement or tar. The inside may be treated in any of the usual ways—with paper or a coat of sizing, water color paint or plaster."

"The walls are 12 to 24 inches thick and will bear 100 times the weight put on any house. They will do for a building up to three stories high."

"Put the mold on an ordinary foundation. Fill it 5 inches deep with sifted earth. Pound the earth with 15 to 20-pound iron rammers until it's so hard it rings, as a pavement rings."

"Then put in another 5 inches and

HARDER TO SPAR WITH BOOKS THAN GLOVES

WILLIAM LAWRENCE STRIBLING SHADOW-BOXING (ABOVE) AND THEN SPARRING WITH HIS UNCLE HOY AND HIS BOOKS (UPPER RIGHT) BELOW: MOTHER STRIBLING PROVING THAT SHE STILL CAN GIVE HER BOY A SPANKING.

By STEVE HANNAGAN

NEWARK, N. J., March 26.—"Spar ring with books is harder than spar ring with gloves. But it's more im portant."

So says William Lawrence Stribling Jr., 19-year-old sensation of the prizefight ring, as he is getting in trim to battle his way to a cham pionship so that he can have the chance to make the grade at college.

And his whole family has come up from Georgia to help him.

His daddy is his manager and trainer, his mother his nurse and dietitian, his Uncle Hoy his tutor of book learning and spiritual advisor, and his 17-year-old brother, his spar ring partner and pal de luxe.

Mother Still Can Spank Him
"He is a mighty fine son," offered his mother, "and we aim to keep him that way. He may have a destruc tive swing in the ring, but he's not too big to take over my knee for a good spanking, even though he is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 165 pounds."

Then she demonstrated the fact for the doubting photographer.

"He is advancing rapidly in his studies," explained Uncle Hoy, who gave up business in the South to travel with the Stribling troupe. "An other teacher will join us within two weeks and within a few months he will be ready to enter college."

There was a Southern accent that suggested crinolines and all the mam my songs of a decade in the conver sation of the Stribling clan.

After the mid-day conference in their hotel suite, the Striblings pro ceeded to the gymnasium where Young Stribling went through a rou tine that would make any 19-year-old envious.

He skipped the rope, shadow-boxed, beat a tattoo on a dummy, and then with healthy perspiration dripping from his perfectly propor tioned body, he sparred several rounds with a husky, human punch ing bag.

But after his rub-down he went back to his rooms and his school.

books and sparred with the agile mind of his Uncle Hoy for an hour and a half.
"He enjoys his books as much as his boxing gloves," said Uncle Hoy. That's saying a lot.

Off to College After Fight

Stribling's parents were acrobats on the vaudeville stage for 12 years. He has travelled in 42 states and 11 foreign countries as a member of the acting troupe. So facing large crowds does not frighten him.

Young Stribling started fighting in 1921 and his battle with Mike Mc-Tigue, the light-heavyweight cham pion, on March 31, will be his 100th performance.

His foeman is the conqueror of Battling Siki, the dusky Senegalese who defeated the popular Georges Carpentier.

"Just as soon as he wins the cham pionship, we're going to hustle him off to college," declared the father along with him," said his mother, "we've never been separated, you know."

FACTS FOR NOTE BOOKS

Mr. Mann of Anytown didn't know much about food but he knew what he liked.

"It's all right," he would say, "to tell me to eat proteins and sugars and starches and all that stuff, but where do I find them?"

Quite a natural question.

Sugar is found in all fruits, and in vegetables, such as corn, beets and sweet potatoes.

Starch is found in all grains and vegetables.

Fats are found both in animal and vegetable foods and in butter, milk, cream, etc.

Proteids are found in animal food such as lean meat, in milk, eggs, cheese; in such plant foods as nuts, peas, beans; in all grains and in most vegetables, though in small quantities.

Carbohydrate is found in all cereals, starchy vegetables, such as Irish potatoes; in bananas, figs, prunes, raisins, green corn, green peas, and apples.

Minerals are found in raw foods such as lettuce and celery.

Lettuce, parsley, spinach and all greens contain vitamins, as do milk and cream.

This is a brief table but sufficient to get a start.

In these, however, will be found the chemical basis. Put them down in your note book.

If you must get mad at the weigins, If successful it should be this Apr. consider Burma: its an nual rainfall is about 600 inches.

A big company is placing on the market a new oil which quiets en used by political machines.

There may be dark horses left at convention time, but dark secrets will be powerful few.

Appetite Gone?

A tempting, delicious looking meal—all the choicest morsels from a well stocked pantry. The fragrant aroma of all these good things failing to put a keen edge on your appetite—failing to arouse, in any degree, a hardy relish for the food so attractively placed before you. Why?

Scores of men and women are faced with the same misfortune. After a day of toil—when they are tired—when good things to eat should be ravishly sought to recharge their vitality and "fit them" for "play time"—their stomachs turn. They are worn down, played out. Food has no appeal. To them it is sickening. The aroma of appetizing things nauseates them.

Red blood cells are missing. Red blood which should be coursing through your veins strengthening your vitality—adding to your strength—keeping you healthy and fit—is not to be found.

S. S. S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. What use is an automobile without a battery? What advantage is a dynamo without electricity? Your body is a human dynamo. Your blood cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. Weakened blood cells make you like the storage battery with dry cells—power is lacking—energy gone—productive qualities at the lowest ebb. S. S. S. supplies the red blood cells—the spark that recharges your system.

Mr. James Chaloupka, Sherman School, Chillicothe, Ohio, writes: "I feel like a new man after taking S. S. S. It gave me a better appetite and cleared my skin of pimples and black heads."

Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned and prepared herbs and barks make up S. S. S.—the great blood purifier. Give nature a helping hand. Get back the lost appetite—the missing vitality—the keen, sparkling eyes—that look of determination. The best way to start back over the road to well being is with S. S. S. Nerves will become stronger. S. S. S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor, and a more "up and going" appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all leading drug stores. Try a bottle and see for your self. The large size bottle is more economical. Get one today.

For the Game's Sake

By LAWRENCE PERRY

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
NEW YORK, March 26.—There seems to be more than a chance that the elimination of mud or artificial toes from football will play the mischief with the game, particularly in the placement kick when the ball is lying upon the turf even in the most advantageous position is extremely difficult; one might almost call it a matter of luck. Certainly the ball will carry neither so far nor so high. This may well revolutionize this important department of the game.

Balls will go low, often into the arms of the nearby defense, or will roll along the ground. Often there will be miserable direction. The object of the change is to save time employed in building tees, in having the ball roll off, etc. This was the only trouble an artificial tee has removed by an official. Immediately the kickoff is made, would have solved it. It is like an extremely ill advised piece of legislation.

The advancement of the kickoff from the forty-yard line to midfield is a poor idea. The decision to place the ball on the three-yard line instead of the five for play after touchback, is another poor one. The play should be done away with altogether.

Penalties of five yards, raised from two—for time out more than three times in a half, will prove beneficial. Granting of power to referees to refuse to take time out when intent to delay is apparent, is good. So is the rule that at the end of each quarter, a gun shall be fired.

The clearing of the on-side kick rule was a necessary act. The wading against ineligible players going down for screen for forward pass receivers will do no good until it is something more than a warning.

Finally the provision for declining a penalty when a defensive man catches a forward pass which has already struck or been touched by an ineligible member of the attacking side, is quite all right.

(By The Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, March 26.—Desiring to be the first woman to own a pennant winner and possible world championship team, Mrs. James C. Dunn, only woman owner of a pennant, the Cleveland Indians, according to advice from Lakeland, Fla., where the team is training.

"When that ambition is realized I may be prevailed upon to sell," Mrs. Dunn is quoted as saying.

Mrs. Dunn's declaration was in reply to rumors that she had received offers to sell her club. No recent bids have been made, she said.

That Stanley Coveleskie, veteran spitball pitcher, has regained his form, was indicated yesterday when he held the Philadelphia Nationals to two hits, one a scratch, in five innings. Left Fielder Jamieson and pitcher James Sullivan are suffering from sore arms.

BOSTON BEATS BROOKLYN

(By The Associated Press.)

BOSTON, March 26.—Bunching hits with errors in the last two innings the Boston Nationals turned their game with the Brooklyn Nationals yesterday from a close contest into a rout and won 11 to 2. Manager F. F. of the Boston Americans sent his team through a routine drill at the San Antonio, Texas, camp. He has cancelled Thursday's game with the local Texas League team as he is satisfied that the team has progressed so far that attention can be given to details rather than to competition.

PROMISE MADE MOTHER BANS SUNDAY BALL

(By The Associated Press.)

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 25.—Branch Rickey doesn't manage his Cardinals on Sunday, as everybody knows.

It isn't that Branch has any scruples about Sunday ball, as capricious critics frequently claim.

Rickey made a promise back in the old, old days to a certain beloved member of the family that he'd never play ball on Sunday.

When that promise was made Mother Rickey—still with great reluctance—gave her consent to his ambition to become a professional ball player.

Go ahead let 'em kid you, Branch, about Sunday baseball. You weren't the first boy ever to make a promise to his mother, nor yet the first one to regard it as sacred.

The Sportsman

By WALTER CAMP

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)

NEW YORK, March 26.—Charles Paddock's restoration to amateur standing is gratifying to followers of field sports, but it may not mean the end of the California flyer's troubles.

Vice President Lacy of the A. A. U. is quoted as saying that while Paddock has been reinstated, he "has not disproved any of the serious charges which have been pressed against him, and which caused his loss of amateur standing."

This still may lead to complications or to some unfortunate charges by foreign nations, in an effort to keep Paddock out of the olympics.

However, the ruling body has passed on the evidence and is satisfied with it, so that it is now up to Paddock to make good in the tryouts and then set sail. No one knows whether these months of discussion may have affected Paddock's spirit. If they haven't, he should be a hard man for any foreign runner to defeat.

The olympic games, revived by Baron Coubertin, undoubtedly are a great thing for bringing nations together, but for sheer friendly rivalry without quarrels, Dwight Davis' inauguration of the Davis Cup Tennis contests stands unequalled. This year, the following nations will compete: England, Ireland, France, Belgium, Spain, Italy, Denmark, Holland, Czechoslovakia, Argentina, New Zealand, Rumania, Switzerland, Australia, Japan, China, Canada, Cuba and Mexico.

All good oils have names

The name on the can is worth a whole lot to you. It enables you to get, with certainty, the grade of oil which you know is best for your engine. Without it you could never be sure of correct lubrication.

When a man is proud of his product the first thing he does is to give it a name.

Then, having given it a name, he leaves no stone unturned to maintain or to raise the original standard of quality.

Every good oil has a name. Beware of the nameless oil. For your motor's sake, select a good motor oil—and then buy it by name, always.

In asking for "Standard" Polarine you have the satisfaction of getting a product whose high quality has made it the standard among oils for many years. Your motor will thank you.

Coolidge Is Still Ahead In S. Dakota

President Leading H. Johnson in Primary for Presidential Preference.

(By The Associated Press.) SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 26.—President Calvin Coolidge was holding a lead of less than 2,000 votes over Senator Hiram Johnson for the Republican presidential preference, when tabulation of unofficial returns from yesterday's primary in South Dakota was resumed today.

Gained largely through the city vote in the southeastern part of the state, the lead was reduced by early reports today from heavy Johnson counties and precincts in central and northeastern parts were expected by Johnson workers to cut deeper into the Coolidge lead.

Coolidge workers, answering the claim of Johnson managers that the Californian had won by 10,000 majority, insisted the western part of the state and more nearly complete returns from the Southeastern section would enable the president to hold his lead.

Meanwhile the majority of Governor M. H. McLean over Senator Sterling for the Republican nomination had grown to more than 3,400 early, apparently assuring the governor's nomination which was claimed by the Sioux Falls press.

On the Democratic ticket, only scattered and incomplete returns were available but the state headquarters of the party at Huron, backing the majority column filings declared Wm. G. McAduff had gained the presidential endorsement. He was opposed by a faction seeking to send an unopposed delegation to the national convention.

Returns from 538 precincts out of approximately 1,750 in the state.

Coolidge 23,159; Johnson 21,261.

Kentuck Farmer Dies In Hospital

David R. Evans, a well known and prosperous farmer of the Kentucky community, died at 1 o'clock this morning in Edmunds hospital, where he was brought on Monday. He had been in declining health for more than a year, diabetes developing, which assumed a critical phase last Sunday. Mr. Evans was 52 years of age and was born near Kentucky, living most of his life there. He was a member of the Kentucky Baptist church.

He was married to Miss Jennie South, who survives him with a son and a daughter, William Evans and Mrs. Oscar McCormick, both of the neighborhood. Only two weeks ago Mr. Evans' mother, Mrs. John R. Evans, died at her home.

IMBARRASSMENT IN NAMES CAUSES HIM EMBARRASSMENT

W. A. Young, a farmer, of Republic Grove, was here today and reported a prevalent impression that he was the W. A. Young who recently was proceeded against in Patrick county for violation of his marketing contract and sentenced to prison. By strange coincidence the Patrick county man was from Republic Grove in that county this leading to one of Young's neighbors to believe he is the man which, however, is not the case. The Halifax county man does not belong to the "pool" he said today.

A reform of the calendar that would cause Easter to fall on a fixed day has frequently been proposed.

HUNT'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The disciplinarian of the Republican party in this time of turmoil and trouble is not a loud-voiced, muscular, muscular individual, swinging a bull-whip and seeking to enforce obedience by main strength and threats of punishment.

Instead, he is the most soft-spoken man in the higher ranks of the G. O. P. His voice is never raised above a subdued conversational tone. But there is a purring, soothing quality to it that quiets and calms where loud tones and harsh words would only irritate and exasperate.

Like a good mahout striding an elephant that has been stampeded by a mouse, John T. dams, chairman of the Republican national committee, whistles honeyed words into the ear of the beast and hides it behind himself, watch his step and move with the dignity befitting its age and honorable position.

Twice within the last year has Adams been forced to quiet the G. O. P. pachyderm with forceful but honeyed words. First was when President Harding came out in favor of the world court. The party elephant has a world court complex and the Harding pronouncement caused cold chills to course through the beast's hide. "Easy, now, easy," Adams whispered. "No naughty world court will catch you. The integrity of the Republican party is worth more than all the world courts that were ever convened."

That crisis was successfully passed.

More recently, Adams has been forced to exert his calming influence to prevent an undignified stampede over the Daugherty situation.

Republican leaders in the Senate, apprized of some of the matters to be developed in the Daugherty investigation, sought to ease their fears for the party by getting Daugherty out of the cabinet. The party screws were being applied to the White House to force Daugherty out when Adams intervened.

He saved the day for Daugherty—at least until Daugherty has had his day in court. Whether, by saving Daugherty, he also served the party, is yet to be seen. But at least he blocked what might later have been shown as a hasty, undignified and damaging maneuver.

A pink-cheeked, gray-haired, unobtrusive little man of 52 is Adams, who for 42 years has been engaged in making doors and window sash out in Dubuque, Iowa. He like to think of his life's work in terms of the vistas revealed through his window sashes. This sentimental, meditative trait is also revealed in his conversation. The quietest voiced, softest spoken man one will find in Washington, outside the Department of Justice.

As he sees it his job as chairman of the Republican committee is not to protect first the candidacies of individuals holding or seeking to hold office under the party. It is to maintain intact the machinery of the party organization itself.

Danville Needs This Amount

To Secure Agricultural Loan Corporation

Danville is now offered the opportunity to become the Financial Center of the Piedmont Section in providing a Banking Institution for the benefit of the Farmers of this entire section, whereby 75 per cent. of the value of the market crop can be obtained for the farmers for the delivery of their crop.

The people of Danville are now asked to subscribe the remainder of the stock required and the opportunity will be offered to all to aid in this great business institution for the farmers of this section.

Danville is expected to take $100,000 stock with the expectation that $200,000 will be raised outside of the city.

Let Danville business men come forward now and over-subscribe the amount needed. Be ready when the committee calls. It means great things for Danville and the farming element of Virginia and Carolina. Danville prospers when the farming section prospers.

To Make The Five-Cent Fare a Success

We will have to carry 27% more passengers. Figure it for yourself—

When we carry 100 people now about 35 pay a 7c cash fare, and about 65 pay 6c—tokens.

Thirty-five paying 7c yields $2.45, and sixty-five paying 6c yields $3.90, or a total of $6.35 for 100 passengers.

To yield $6.35 at 5c requires 127 passengers, or a 27% increase in the number of passengers to yield the same amount as 100 passengers are now paying.

BOILER ROOM BUDGETS

The variable prices and uncertain quality of coal bought in the "spot" market make it impossible for executives to determine their operating costs accurately.

Why take chances when you can take precautions? A contract for Admiralty at a predetermined price will enable you to calculate power costs to a dollar. Uniform quality, plus a stable price, permits maximum boiler room efficiency.

Your inquiry will receive prompt attention.

The REFEREE

BY ALBERT APPLE.

FOREVER

Another sure sign of springs—William Jennings Bryan, the hardy quadrennial, now 64 years old, announced that he would "consider the matter" if the Democrats decide to "draft" him as their presidential candidate.

He is receiving so many letters, urging him to run, that he has had to print a form letter to answer them. Neither party has a shrewder politician. He has manifested his shrewdness by his comparative silence in the last few years. As a candidate, he might "run" amazingly. He usually does.

DEAD?

Strange things happen to us in this day and age if we aren't constantly "on the job."

Aged Isaac C. Crane meets a friend who gasps and says, "Why, like you're dead." "Doggone if I am," says Ike. But he learns that the courts declared him legally dead after a long absence. Now he craves legal resurrection, to claim a share of a $25,000 estate. It will be an interesting fight.

SING-SING

Fifty per cent. of the prisoners in Sing-Sing are under 25, and 87 per cent. are under 30. The number of boys between 16 and 20, who are serving sentences in New York prisons, is larger today than ever before. These conditions do not reflect any sudden change in "the younger generation" of our period. The roots of it all were the environment and training of as far back as 30 years ago. Lawabiding adults are reaping the whirlwind of past neglect of youth.

RED-TAPE

Death takes Elijah Watt Sells, born 1858. He was one of the original efficiency experts. Readers with long memories will recall that in 1892 Sells and Haskins revised the bookkeeping system of the United States government.

If the simplified Sells-Haskins system is still in use, it's lucky we haven't the system used prior to 1892. Especially in the income tax auditing department. Thorough checking-up is necessary. The real trouble is that the tax law is too complicated, a quite natural condition in view of its being framed by lawyer-politicians.

RUM-RUNNERS

Liquor ships have congregated so thickly in the vicinity of New York that they are a menace to navigation. So complains veteran Captain Schmidt. He says that on his last trip out he barely missed running down two hooch schooners.

Liquor is plentiful at most eastern cities, it's even sold in most of the grocery stores. The interior of the country is drier. How long will it continue so if rapid development of airplanes continues? The flying machine will be the real prohibition problem.

Coach Driver Going to S. C.

(By The Associated Press.)
WILLIAMSBURG, Va., March 26.—James G. Driver, former coach at William and Mary College here and well known in athletic circles in the South, has been appointed director of student activities at the University of South Carolina. It was learned here today. Driver will be in charge of athletics and all student activities at South Carolina. It was stated but will do no coaching. His athletic activities will consist principally in managing the business affairs of the various sports.

Driver coached the Game Cocks football squad in 1911-12-13 and later was in charge of athletics at Newberry College. He resigned as coach at William and Mary last June to enter business here.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon.)
NEW YORK, March 26.—I suppose the great powers were of the opinion that the uncertainty created by Washington was not sufficient so they added a little to the measure and gave the market a shock by paying the regular $1.25 dividend on American Can. I wonder if some sort of some sort of an explanation is not in order. Did any one imagine that American Can was such a wonderful proposition that stockholders would be glad to carry it on a 4 1/2 per cent income basis. A sort of liberty bond, so to speak. If U. S. Steel can't hold at par where should Can be? I suppose that the directors thought it good policy to make a public statement they would probably say "We are sorry, ladies and gentlemen, that we can't give you more but the outlook isn't as good as it was the last quarter and we think it is best to hold on to our cash."

MORNING COTTON LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon.)
NEW YORK, March 26.—The Liverpool market fully meets the moderate recovery yesterday and at the present moment is a few points better than due. Foreign advice are that spinners are calling cotton. Here we have the usual situation that develops in a declining market. Even those that need cotton hold off and the state of trade is made to appear worse than what it really may be. The only phrase that can properly describe the present situation is "want of confidence." No matter what the statistical position may be, you can't accomplish much without confidence. What the effect will be because of the change in the French government, isn't clear at the moment. Legal sentiment is against the market.

THE RIGHT TYPE

"Your credentials are satisfactory," said the manufacturer to the youthful applicant. "Have you a grandmother?"

"No, sir."

"Any dear old aunt?"

"No, sir."

"Or any other relatives who might die during the 1924 baseball season?"

"No, sir."

"You'll do. Come in tomorrow for work."—Life.
